

Absolute Value

The absolute value of a number is indicated by the symbol $|x|$ where x represents any number. The absolute value of a positive number is the number itself. For example, if the number is 6, the $|6|$ is 6. The absolute value of a negative number is always its corresponding positive value. For example, if the number is -7 , the $|-7|$ is 7.